

New Product

New Product

8GHz Network Analyzer

Protek A338

Protek A338

Protek A338 is vector network analyzer supporting from 300kHz to 8GHz and designed to analyze the properties of electrical networks, especially those properties associated with the reflection and transmission of electrical signals known as S-parameters.

